

VALENTINE'S DAY GIFT GUIDE

By Noor El Deeb

Valentine's Day is upon us again and that means Enigma's editors have been hard at work searching for the most exquisitely original presents and experiences. We might say this every year, but this time we really, truly, madly, deeply mean it. We've done all the hard work for you, wearing our heels down trawling through the streets of Cairo and destroying our manicures surfing through the best gift websites (all of which deliver to Egypt and the Middle East) to bring you the most beautiful buys. All you need to do is leave your copy of Enigma strategically lying around and your significant other will get the hint. This gift guide is our little gift to you...
